

I was watching the superbowl with my 11 and 13 year old sons. My jaw dropped in shock when I saw Janet Jackson's breast at the end of half time. Luckily my sons did not find the dancing and music very entertaining and were not watching very closely. Shame on you MTV!! This is the reason why we do not watch your programs and we don't want to watch them on regular TV either. Somebody's head should roll for this one!!

Sincerely Janette Mow
